WE SAY: A fantastic itinerary showing many different sides of India, from British colonial influences to Little Tibet, see the Sikh Golden temple in Punjab and the highlights of Rajasthan, then head eastward for the beautiful Taj Mahal and the amazing holy city on the Ganges, Varanasi.

YOU SAY: As a Londoner it was definitely weird seeing the red double decker buses in Mumbai. It sure wasn't London even if they have their own version of Big Ben! The disco taxi from Chowpatty beach back to the accommodation was cool. Flashing chilli lights, blaring Bollywood music and a driver who had his very own version of YMCA.

OUR HONCHOS SAY: My country has a lot to offer - the mighty Himalayas and holy cities of sadhus and priests, to the deserts of Rajasthan and the buzzing Bollywood town of Mumbai; the beautiful beaches of Goa and backwaters of Kerala and the tribal lands of east India and the splendid tea estates in the north. If the world was to be put in a country - I say that would be my India!
